Dear Lou:

I find that I never carried out my broker's request to have you fill out the enclosed form signing over the shares of Anthony Powercraft and Anthony Bros. Fibre Glass Pool Corporation stock, so that I can sell them.

Apparently it is necessary to have your signature notarized. I enclose the shares for your reference, and an envelope addressed to my broker, so that you can send the papers directly to him.

I'm glad to hear that your trip went so well and that you are both back in good health and, of course, I am jealous of your new car (though my 57 Alfa is still performing well). To raise some cash, I have just sold my last hundred shares of Control Data (my only holding) which, ever thoughtful to my needs, recently doubled once more, as you may have noticed. After spending all June in Washington, I'm having an athletic and thinning summer with my family...swimming and running on Muscle Beach instead of eating lunch. I trust that you are doing the same, or equivalent.

With love,

DE/ss
